COMMON SCHOOL LANDS

Speech of Hon W D Hare, of Washington County.

The House of Representatives of Oregon having under consideration Mr Starkweather's resolution instructing the Senators and requesting the Representatives from Oregon to ask the passage by Congress of an Act [illegible] its assent to the provision of Section 2 of Article VIII of the Constitution of Oregon setting apart for common school purposes the proceeds from the grant of 500 000 acres of land made by Congress in the Act approved September 4 1841 Mr Hare said

Mr SPEAKER In rising [illegible] to discuss the proposition that is before the House at this time I trust I may be pardoned for saying at the outset that I do so in no partisan feeling What I shall say will be prompted by the high regard which I have for the interests of our common schools and my determination to oppose everything which looks like a diversion of the 500 000 acres of land from the purpose to which our State Constitution has dedicated it I do not desire nor intend to occupy the time of the House but a few moments and I think I can demonstrate to every member of this House here by citing acts of Congress in cases similar to the one now under discussion that this fund to be realized from the sale of the 500 000 acres of land is to-day a fund set apart by the supreme law of the land for the benefit of our common schools, and that it is not within the power of the State to divert it from such purposes I desire to invite the attention of every gentleman upon this floor to the provision of the Constitution of Oregon in relation to this grant of lands It is found in page 116 of the compilation of the General Laws a copy of which is in the possession of each member Section 2 of Article VIII, says

The proceeds of all the lands which have been or hereafter may be granted to this State for educational purposes (excepting the lands heretofore granted to aid in the establishment of a university all the moneys and clear proceeds of all property which may accrue to the State by escheat or forfeiture all moneys which may be paid as exemption from military duty the proceeds of all gifts, devises and bequests made by any person to the State for common school purposes the proceeds of all property granted to the State when the purposes of such grant shall not be stated, all the proceeds of the 500,000 acres of land to which this State is entitled by the provisions of an Act of Congress entitled 'An Act to appropriate the proceeds of the sales of the public lands and to grant pre-emption rights, approved the 4th of September, 1841 '' and also the five per centum of the net proceeds of the sales of the public lands to which this State shall become entitled on her admission into the Union (if Congress shall consent to such appropriation of the two grants last mentioned,) shall be set apart as a separate and irreducible fund to be called the common school fund, the interest of which together with all other revenues derived from the school land mentioned in this section shall be exclusively applied to the support and maintenance of common schools, in each school district and the purchase of suitable libraries and apparatus therefor

Now it will be seen from this article of our Constitution that both the land funds donated by Congress to the State for internal improvements were set aside—so far as the framers of the Constitution and the people who ratified it could do so—to constitute an irredeemable school fund There are two of such funds one arising from the net proceeds of sales of the 500 000 acres and another created by the five per centum of sales of United States lands within the State When the framers of the Constitution met in Convention it was with the understanding that the Constitution which they should prepare would become binding as soon as accepted by Congress The Constitution was submitted to the people of Oregon and they sanctioned it by their votes We then applied to Congress asking admission into the Union as a State This application was of the nature of a petition from the people of Oregon embodying certain terms—the terms expressed in the Constitution. When this petition came before Congress what did that body do? It acquiesced in the terms of the petition—granted the petition—by passing the act which is found on page 131 of the Code, admitting the State into the Union This act embraces five sections All that is said in it about these lands is found in the fourth section, and that is in these words

That five per centum of the net proceeds of sales of all public lands lying within said State which shall be sold by Congress after the admission of said State into the Union after deducting all the expenses incident to the same, shall be paid to said State, for the purpose of making public roads and internal improvements as the Legislature shall direct'' This is the language of the fifth proposition which Congress made to the State of Oregon on her admission into the Union This proposition was accepted by the State in the act of June 3, 1859 It says nothing about the 500,000 acre grant made by Congress to new States in 1841 There is nothing in this act nor in any other act of Congress annulling the provision of our Constitution relative to the grant of 1841 Then the case stands thus We petition Congress for admission into the Union asking permission to dedicate to common schools all the lands to which we may be entitled Congress grants our petition, but by one of its propositions says we must reserve the five per cent fund for internal improvements and not use it for the benefit of our schools As to the other grant Congress is silent just as it is with reference to all other provisions of the Constitution under which we were admitted and which by the [illegible] of Congress are made the supreme law of our State Congress does not directly express its assent to anything in our Constitution The act says Whereas the people of Oregon have framed ratified and adopted a Constitution of State government which is republican in form and in conformity with the Constitution of the United States, and have applied for admission into the Union on an equal footing with the other States therefore be it enacted'' etc Then follows the clauses simply admitting the State describing the boundaries etc Under this act all portions of our State Constitution are recognized as law although Congress says nothing about assenting to them or ratifying them By the mere act of admission she clothes all the provisions of this charter which we are now annulling with the dignity and authority of law This provision setting apart the funds arising from the sale of the 500 000 acres of land is a part of the Constitution, and is nowhere impaired by superior authority Why then should we not regard this provision of article 8 with the same respect that we do any other portion of our fundamental law? I think the argument in favor of the proposition is conclusive I can see no escape from it Then we find that by our highest law this fund is dedicated to common school purposes and the Legislature has no power to divert it from that purpose

But a question arises as to whether Congress could assent to the diversion of that fund from its original purpose internal improvement and as to whether the people of Oregon could make it a school fund It will be remembered by gentlemen here that the Congress of the United States at one time passed an Enabling Act for the Territories of Florida and Iowa under which they became States When the people of Iowa came to form their Constitution they placed in it a provision relative to the [illegible] the same as ours word for word Congress passed upon that Constitution in the same manner that it did upon ours It approved by its silence every provision of the Constitution of Iowa This was the understanding during the first few years of the history of Iowa as a State but as has been the case with us the question was raised as to whether or not the lands could be used for internal improvements The friends of [illegible] educational interests [illegible] were anxious to have the matter settled authoritatively and [illegible] secured the passage by Congress of an Act entitled 'An Act declaratory of the Act for the admission of the State of Iowa into the Union' which declares That by the Act entitled an Act for the admission of the State of Iowa into the Union approved December 28th, [illegible] the United States assented to the application for the support of common schools as made in the second section of the 10th Article of the Constitution of said State of the five per centum of the net proceeds of sales of the public lands within the State of Iowa and of the five hundred thousand acres of land granted to said State by the Act of the 4th of September, 1841 said land to be selected in legal subdivisions of not less than three hundred and twenty acres Thus it will be seen that Congress declared in 1849 that in 1846 it assented to the provision of the Constitution of Iowa transferring the grant for internal improvements to a fund for common school purposes Now how was that assent given The Act of 1846 did not give the assent It leaves that the Act of 1846 did The latter Act does not say a word about the matter. [illegible] Is not this conclusive? I do not see how the matter can be made plainer and if Congress by its silence in one instance gave authority and effect to the provisions of a State Constitution in the Act admitting the State into the Union how can gentlemen deny that in precisely a similar instance like effect and [illegible] is conferred? To do so they must disregard all the principles of analogy and all the binding force of precedents I apprehend that no court in this State nor in any other State would permit such construction of the law

Again to make the case stronger if possible I invite your attention to our own House Journal for 1868 Mr Chapman Chairman of the Judiciary Committee, submitted a report upon this subject The committee had been instructed to give an opinion as to 'whether or not the 500 000 acres of land granted to new States under the Act of 1841 are now school lands ' It will be noticed that in this report the committee are of opinion that Congress in the Act admitting the State into the Union assented to all the provisions of the Constitution not expressly rejected to. Silence on the part of Congress say the Committee was then (at the time of the admission of Oregon into the Union) and ever since has been regarded as giving consent, and the State and the departments have so located it''

The report concludes with these words to which I desire to direct particular attention '' Your committee are therefore of opinion that the 500 000 acres of land, with the proceeds of the sales thereof, constitute an irreducible fund, the interest on which is appropriated to the support of common schools, and the five per centum of the net proceeds of the sale of the public land within the State of Oregon is appropriated to aid in the construction of internal improvements within the State and that it is not within the power of the Legislature to divert either from such purposes

I am informed that Col Chapman afterwards voted contrary to this opinion, but that is no answer to their argument. The report tells the truth and it expresses the unanimous opinion of the Judiciary Committee. There stands the report upon the record to speak for itself I have already referred to the fact that the matter was settled for the State of Iowa by a special act of Congress That was after the question had been raised by an attempt to use the fund for the improvement of the Des Moines river In that case we see that Congress declares that by her silence on the admission of the State she gave her consent to the dedication of this fund to common school purposes The rule applies as well in our case as theirs and here we have the opinion of the legal authority of our own body confirming the same views that I have taken

There is another fact Mr Speaker which we would not overlook for it is entitled to great weight in this controversy For ten years we have acquiesced in the dedication of this fund to common school purposes For ten years we have so used it and so treated it, during his term of office—the first term under the constitution Gov Whiteaker selected a portion of this land and Gov Gibbs who was our Chief Executive, selected the remainder All these locations were entered upon blank forms prepared and furnished by the Commissioner General of the Land Office These blanks are divided into separate columns or heads, The first column is headed '' Town,'' the second '' Range,'' the third Section,'' the fourth '' No of Acres,'' and the fifth '' For what purpose located.'' The lands were listed upon this form and under the fifth head was entered the words ' For common school purposes '' The lists were then sent in triplicate to Washington One copy was filed in the office of the Commissioner and the others returned one to the Governor of this State, and the other to the Surveyor General of the Land Office in this State Upon the back of these forms the Secretary of the Interior endorsed the word 'approved.' The act of the Secretary of the Interior who is the agent of the United States in approving the location of these lands upon such forms is of itself satisfactory evidence, (uncontroverted as it has been) that the Government of the U S assents to the provision of our constitution dedicating these lands to common school purposes Here then we see that our State by its Governors located the lands as school lands and that the Government of the United States by the action of its authorized agent approved of such locations They were listed to the State of Oregon as school lands. They were dedicated by our Constitution as school lands The land officers of Washington still regard them in this light and the Government of the United States has never questioned the legality and propriety of such locations What further evidence is needed to establish this proposition? Why then should we ourselves seek a technical and unreasonable construction of the law in order to deprive our posterity of this glorious heritage—a heritage which if duly guarded by us, will descend alike to the children of the poor and to the children of the rich and which will enable them to acquire that mental culture which is priceless above rubies and without which our free institutions cannot long endure?

Allow me to call attention to another instance I will cite the case of California Section 2 of article 9 of the constitution of that State is the same as our own except that it does not include the five per centum of sales of U S lands In the Act of Congress by which that State was admitted into the Union assent is given in regard to the dedication of those lands for the common schools in the same manner as on the admission of Oregon—by its silence The fact that the assent was given has never been controverted I hold in my hand a little pamphlet published by the Central Pacific Railroad Company in 1870 upon the 19th page of which I find under the head of 'Schools—Education,' the following remarks Every sixteenth and thirty sixth section of land, or one eighth of all the land in the State was given by Congress to the State to be sold and the proceeds applied to the support of public schools In addition to this Congress gave to California 500 000 acres of land for purposes of internal improvements The proceeds [illegible] of these are also devoted by the State Constitution to public education The interest on the money derived from the sales of those lands, as also an annual tax levied on all property are annually distributed to all the school districts in the State ''

By examining the Journal of the Legislature of California it will be found that the 500 000 acres of land granted by Congress for internal improvements and transferred by the constitution to the common school fund have been uniformly treated as school lands They have been treated in no other way or shape The fund arising from these and other lands have been used to build up a magnificent system of free schools which are to-day the pride of every Californian worthy the name of his State

We have now seen how these lands have been regarded in Iowa and in California under circumstances precisely like those which surround us We have seen that the expressed wish of the framers of our Constitution was that the funds arising from the 500 000 acres of land should be devoted to common school purposes that such was the desire of the people of this State as expressed by them when they adopted this Constitution that Congress assented to and thereby confirmed this use of the funds that the State has located the lands and that the Government has approved them as school lands and that they have been regarded as such and [illegible] Why should we take these funds [illegible] internal improvements? I know that many [illegible] improvements are needed There are railroads and wagon roads to be constructed canals to be dug water courses to be opened and improved lands to be drained bridges to be built and many other laudable enterprises to be fostered I as one of the citizens of this State desire to see all these improvements made I want to see everything brought [illegible] that is within our reach to develop as early as possible and to as great a height as possible, all the resources of our noble State I desire to see railroads running from north to south and from east to west and I would be glad to see handsome and commodious steamers plying in all our waters but I tell you Mr Speaker there is something of more importance to our State than internal improvements Ours is a constitutional Government We are the only people in the world who have written constitutions This system of government was formed by the people and it depends for its existence upon the will of the people If that will should be blinded by ignorance, what hope can we have of intelligent or free government?

Of all countries in the world the people of this country should be educated In order to protect our State against anti republican tendencies we need something else even more than we do internal improvements To educate man so that he may appreciate the blessings of free institutions to exalt him by mortal culture so that he may fully enjoy his personal freedom to strengthen his mind against the evil influences of aristocracy these are the objects which, before all others we should seek to attain This is the surest foundation upon which to base the perpetuity of our institutions The opportunity of building upon this foundation must be placed within the reach of every citizen—and that can be done but in one way by means of a system of free schools The Congress of the United States has wisely and generously extended to us its assistance in this respect The 16th and 36th sections in each township and this 500 000 acres of land are ours to use in creating a magnificent endowment for our Common Schools. Shall we now, as a Legislative body seek to divert an important part of this fund to other purposes of less importance and in which all the people cannot equally share? Already this fund has been secured to the State It is the common property of all the people. Local improvements are mainly of benefit to those who reside in the locality where the improvement is made. When we give money for the common fund, therefore, to benefit a few by such local improvements, do we not thereby defraud those who are not benefitted? There is no way in which all can be so equally benefitted by this fund as by using it for the purpose of fostering the Common Schools throughout the State, Then let me remind the gentlemen on the opposite side of the house that it is a well known fact that the Democratic party claims to be opposed to all schemes for making the rich richer and the poor poorer Such has been the burden of nearly every Democratic stump speech throughout the State for years past. I call upon gentlemen to stand by their record This doctrine is proclaimed in Democratic platforms it is echoed by the Democratic press and Democratic orators Here now comes rich corporations seeking to take from the pockets of the people money that is needed to save our children from ignorance and degradation Under the plea of ''internal improvements,'' they would speedily absorb the whole of this fund and leave us hereafter to tax ourselves $150 000 or $200 000 per annum to make up the loss, or else let our schools languish and our children grow up in ignorance How will my Democratic friends vote? I appeal to them to stand by the promises they have made the voters of this State Stand by this proud record, gentlemen which the framers of our Constitution have made. Vote with us to-day to carry out the wishes of the people who adopted this Constitution Then when you go home to your constituents you will not only have the pleasure of their approbation, but you will also enjoy the sweet approval of your own consciences Right here I undertake to say that if this proposition to divert this fund from the school fund to that of internal improvements were submitted to the people of Oregon to day, ninety-nine out of every hundred of them would vote against it Who will say this is not so? I do not believe there is a man in my county—Democrat or Republican—who would favor it. I think it is so with other constituencies Then why attempt to do this? The people do not ask it Not a single petition has been presented praying for it I undertake to say that if it is done it will be condemned by the whole people of this State.

One other thought occurs to me which I desire to express before taking my seat One of the bills pending in this Legislature proposes to give $150 000 to a private corporation for the purpose of building locks for steamboats at Oregon City, so that they may pass the Falls I have no objection to building these locks I want to see them constructed They will be of great advantage to freighters all along the Wallamet river They will enable many of our farmers to get their produce to market at cheaper rates than now But what are the terms upon which this gift is asked? The State is to receive ten per centum of the receipts for tonnage This it is claimed will be more than the usual interest on the money. I am informed that it will take an additional $150 000 which the company will have to furnish to complete the locks Then I see that it is expected for the State to furnish one half of the capital and to receive only one-tenth of the profits Besides she is to have no interest in the property after it is created except the per centage of the tonnage Now I desire to know why the State should not have half of the profits, if she is to furnish one half of the money? Certainly this should be the case if the company is to own the locks after they are built But it is said that at the end of twenty years the State can own the property Upon what terms? The bill says upon the payment of such a price as may be fixed by a committee of appraisement If the hopes of the friends of this measure should be realized, this property twenty years from now would command a price by reason of its increased value which would be a handsome thing for the company If their hopes should not be realized, the adventure would certainly be a poor one for the State Then I conclude that upon such terms I am not willing to see the State invest any funds in this enterprise and especially am I opposed to diverting our school money to any such purpose.

I have now given the reasons upon which I found my opinion that the transfer of the funds arising from the 500 000 acres of lands granted by the Act of Sept 4, 1841 has been confirmed by Congress and that it is not within our power to take it from the common schools I am firmly of this opinion Yet as the question has been raised by men whose judgment is entitled to respect since in the language of the resolution now before us 'a doubt has arisen in the minds of some,' on this subject, I am in favor of this resolution asking Congress to settle this question for all time to come by expressly giving its assent. I shall therefore vote for the resolution, and I earnestly hope it may prevail

Indian Murders in Montana.

(From the Pick and Plow Sept. 21)

One day last week the Boteler Brothers [illegible] spend most of their time hunting discovered the shockingly mutilated remains of two white men on a tributary of the Clark's Fork, about 17 miles southeast of Bozeman The bodies were lying on the edge of a deep ravine by the side of an old camp fire and a miner's pick pinned the skeleton of one to the ground [illegible] evidently been driven through the body after the murder of the victim A bullet hole in the front of the skull of each plainly told how their lives had been taken The skeletons were lying close together The red devils must have crept on them through the ravine and fired simultaneously and with unerring aim while they were eating their suppers or quietly smoking by their camp fire Wolves and coyotes had stripped all the flesh from the bones but a heavy bunch of whiskers was found near each skull and no other hair was seen they must have been scalped by the cowardly [illegible] A dental plate [illegible] was also found [illegible] of the skeletons Messrs Boteler [illegible] the whiskers and the false teeth to the Yellowstone Mission for indentification [illegible] that they were of a party of prospectors who started from Bozeman to the Yellowstone last July Mr Archibald Graham referred to elsewhere as having returned during the week being among them [illegible] the name of one as Crandall but the [illegible] have been unable to learn All the others of the party are known to be safe

Yet a little while longer red skinned hyenas of the Yellowstone—perhaps the addition of half a dozen more victims to the scores of Montana pioneers whom you have savagely murdered on her eastern borders and a manifest destiny which false philanthropist and Government corruptionist combined cannot withstand will render you as powerless for mischief as the beggarly Bannacks now are When the rush [illegible] sets in the one hundred [illegible] Eastern Montana will [illegible]

Are They Honest?

Th[illegible] we [illegible] the subject the more we are convinced that protection to American industry to the extent of a discriminating tariff upon imported manufactures is not only wise and judicious. But it is justice to the laboring people of the country. We say nothing at present of the capitalists who have invested their means in manufacturing industries. It may be assumed that they are able to take care of themselves. But our country is full of people whose only capital is labor, which cannot be invested in bonds or mortgages. These are the men who are benefitted by a protective tariff that encourages American industry, and induces capitalists to invest their money in manufactures. This matter is so plain that it really seems as is frequently charged, that these strenuous advocates of free trade must be influenced by something besides honest conviction. We know that lawyers, for a consideration, will undertake to prove a client innocent whom they know to be guilty. So it seems to us these advocates of free trade are doing. It is so preposterous to urge people to cut their own throats on the ground that it will spite somebody else. And yet that is just what these advocates of free trade are doing when they urge the workingmen to vote for free traders.

As we ask at the head of this article, are they honest, or have they received a liberal fee for urging workingmen to insist upon having their own wages cut down from 50 to 100 per cent, as they must be if they are forced to compete with the pauper labor of Europe. The ten million laborers in this country are far more interested in this question than are the comparatively few who have invested their capital in manufacturing industries. Of course a glib tongue and ready pen can appeal to the prejudices of workingmen by harping about the 'bloated manufacturer,' and how he is protected, and how the poor man is taxed on all he eats, drinks, and wears, and all that sort of thing but the fact remains that labor throughout the country in all departments of industry, is well paid, and the laboring classes generally well off—that labor is so much better compensated here than in the old countries of Europe, where prices of living and especially all manufactured articles are so very low, that tens of thousands of laborers are every month leaving their homes and braving the perils of a new country, to improve their condition. They come to this country because labor is better paid than in the countries they leave—better paid too, in proportion to the cost of living, notwithstanding the high prices here and the low prices there. These are facts which no amount of theorizing or special pleading can do away with. They are facts which the laboring men ought to understand and appreciate, so as not to be misled by the specious doctrines of free trade.

Next Congress and Next President

The Democratic Congressional Committee commenced the political campaign of this year by claiming a majority for their party in the next Congress. They figured up 131 members, and conceded to the Republicans 112. It is now a settled fact that the Republican majority in the next Congress will be nearly as large as in the present one. The Republican strength in that body can hardly be less than two thirds of the whole. Of course this assures the triumph of the Republicans in the next Presidential election. If they can do so well as they are doing now, without any effort worth naming, what will they do two years hence, when they throw all their strength into a national contest? The opposition will be nowhere. No party which has succeeded in electing a majority in Congress in the middle of a Presidential term has ever been beaten in the Presidential election following. This has come to be received as an infallible indication in our politics.

The Eugene Journal pithily explains the situation in which the present Legislature has got railroad affairs. Referring to the action of that body in resolving against the Pengra route and then resolving in favor of it, the Journal says: "As matters now stand our delegation in Congress are now instructed to 'strenuously resist all Congressional aid to the Middle Fork route and to 'use all due diligence and every honorable means to secure a land grant for the Middle Fork route.' Of course they will first strenuously resist, and then 'use all due diligence to secure a land grant for the Middle Fork route.' By such a course they will be following the example of the Oregon Democracy—will be on both sides of the question and will not fail to attract attention, even if they do fail, under such peculiar circumstances, to 'secure a land grant.' Democracy has at last exposed itself in its true light."

Sir Henry Bulwer, looking at the present aspects of the war in France says: "If standing in view of an immeasurable calamity which threatens to afflict the world, we are wrapped up in an unchangeable resolve to remain motionless then I cannot refrain from expressing a most mournful apprehension that the day is not far distant when God will withdraw from us a power which we have not known how to use worthily and that a policy so cowardly will be fatal to our future greatness, our national character and our national interests." This means says the New York Herald, that if England persists in her present narrow and selfish policy of "masterly inactivity, doing nothing for the cause of peace at this crisis, she will live to repent her folly, and Sir Henry no doubt speaks the popular opinion of England.

The Utica Herald wants to know how and where Tweed the dictator of the New York Democracy, acquired his wealth. It says:

Ten years ago, William M Tweed was a chairmaker and a bankrupt, in New York. He left his honest trade and devoted himself to politics. He became a sachem of Tammany, and he held various offices. Ten years have elapsed, and he boasts that he is one of the largest tax payers in New York city. His wealth is reported at twelve millions dollars. Where did it come from? Politics has been his vocation. Taxes have marvelously increased wherever his influence has been felt. The assessed valuation of all the real estate in Oneida county is about $14,000,000. That represents the hard toil of many men for three generations. Tweed in ten years has, by Tammany politics, acquired nearly as much. That is the striking fact thrust upon the electors.

We call attention to the able speech of Hon Wm D Hare of Washington county on the school land question which was recently discussed in the Legislature. The speech will be found in our columns to day. It is notable for its clearness of statement and cogency of argument and leaves nothing to be said on the subject of which it treats. The speech is highly creditable to Mr Hare.

TENTH ANNUAL STATE FAIR

Fifth Day

SALEM Oct 14 1870

ANNUAL ADDRESS

The annual address was delivered at 11 o'clock this morning by Mr Galloway of Yamhill, a young gentleman who received his education at the Wallamet University, Salem. It was ornate and rather well turned in its periods, but not otherwise remarkable. The crowd was noisy and restless after the first few sentences, and not more than a few could tell to-night much about the address.

PLOWING MATCH

The plowing match was not much of an affair as compared with one or two years ago. There were only a few competitors with sulky and walking plows, and the trial created but little interest, even among farmers. After the decision was rendered I could not find the judges nor the entry book and therefore cannot give the names of the premium winners. There is so little system in the management that if the Reporter be not present seeing and hearing every trial and judgment, he is likely to waste whatever effort he may make to learn how the thing went.

SPECIAL PREMIUM FOR BUTTER

There were a considerable number of competitors for the special premium offered by Dr Hawthorne for the best twenty five pounds of butter and the exhibition was one of the best in that class. The Judges selected were Mrs Dr Griffin, of Albany, Mrs A Stanton, of Salem, Mrs C C Walker, of Polk, and Mrs L E Cutting, of Salem. After thoroughly testing the samples the premium was awarded to Mrs G G Glenn, of Marion county. This exhibition contained some of the handsomest butter I ever saw, and so nearly balanced were the qualities of the competing samples that the ladies had some difficulty in deciding who should be entitled to the premium.

PARADE OF PREMIUM ANIMALS

We had another splendid display of stock to day the parade of premium animals. This part of the Fair has been almost eminent[illegible]. Nothing except the races has attracted so much attention as the fine stock on exhibition. The number of animals was so great that the committee did not complete all the award of premiums till late to day, and at dark the books were not all in. Oregon has reason to be proud of this year's exhibition of horses, cattle, sheep, swine, poultry, etc.

There were about thirty coops of imported thoroughbred fowls shown.

Some of the imported sheep were the handsomest animals ever exhibited on these grounds.

THE RACE

The race of to day was one of the most exciting of the Fair. It was a race open to all—two mile heats, 2 best in 3—for a premium of $150. The horses entered were W S Scoggins' Jack Miner, G Baskett's Dixie, E Raxford's Buckskin, and J Lascelles' Greyhound.

In the first heat all went off with a fine start. Buckskin, however, soon took the lead, pressed closely by Jack Miner and Greyhound and kept it all the way round—making the first mile in 1 52. On the second mile Dixie stepped into a hole and threw her rider. Greyhound's saddle got loose and he fell behind so far as to be distanced. The contest was therefore between Buckskin and Jack Miner, the former winning the heat in 3 57½.

At the start for the second heat "Jack Miner's" rider misunderstood the word to hold up, and went around under full speed, the other horse meantime resting. In a few minutes the horses were brought up and sent off together. "Buckskin" again led all the way round, and came in winner by a half dozen lengths, in 4 01½.

EQUESTRIANSHIP

The competitors in the trial of equestrianship were Miss Sophia M Tharp, of Bellevue, Yamhill, Miss E O Garrison, of Salem, Miss E F Yokum, of Yamhill, Miss L H Taylor, of Salem, Miss Fannie Stewart, of Yamhill and Mrs Mary L Nixon, of Albany. Miss Sophia M Tharp was awarded the first, and Mrs Nixon the second premium.

This closed the programme for to-day, and at dark the crowd began to break up and start for home.

RACES FOR TO-MORROW

Mr Clark, the President, authorizes the announcement that there will be another running and trotting race to-morrow afternoon, under the Society's management.

The running race will probably be between "Buckskin," "Greyhound" and "Jack Miner," as I understood the owners are anxious to make a pool purse and try their nags again. The trotting race will be for untried animals, the Society giving a small premium, and outsiders making up a purse. There will doubtless be other races, so that the day will be really one of the most exciting of the week, among the horse men.

ATTENDANCE AND RECEIPTS.

A good many hundreds have packed up this afternoon and gone home. The number in attendance to-day is estimated at 16,000 to 20 000. Probably 16 000 is the greatest number on the grounds at any time.

The total receipts of the Fair, up to 6 o'clock this P M, were not footed up, but Mr Moores informs me that the aggregate at the gates is about $18 000.

The cars ran between the grounds and Salem yesterday between the hours of 11 30 and 3 30 carrying 1 044 passengers. To-day they have been running since 11 30 and are still running at 9 P. M. The numbers carried must be up among the big thousands.

The telegraph has performed a very important part in the present war. Each Prussian army has a telegraph division, consisting of three station wagons with ten systems of apparatus and the necessary vehicles for equipage. They carry with them material for six miles of telegraph. The personnel of each division consists of engineer, besides a second officer as assistant, twelve government telegraph officials for working the apparatus, and the necessary number of pioneers for the restoration or erection of telegraph lines. In the advance into France scarcely did the enemy disappear on the further side of a valley than these telegraph corps began their work in order to secure a rapid means of communication between the different portions of the army, as well as to keep up a connection with the States telegraph. As a rule these telegraph pioneers erect one mile (German) of telegraph in four hours or under favorable circumstances in two hours, such is the perfection of the organization.

JOHN CHINAMAN IN THE PULPIT.—John Chinaman makes a good cook, or shoemaker or tiller of the ground, but what kind of a Methodist minister will he make? We ask because we observe that Mr [illegible] Ah Chee, a Celestial recently come to Cincinnati has joined the Methodist Church at Covington. Mr Chee in his own, his native Hong Kong, was for four years in a French academy under the direction of French missionaries who intended we suppose to make him a Catholic priest, but coming here he has taken a Protestant slant. It having been settled (by the shoemakers) that as a shoemaker John is not desirable, we now want to see if (by Methodist ministers) it shall also be settled that as a Methodist minister he is equally an intruder, and whether he is to be not physically, but morally lynched.—N. Y. Tribune.

GAMBETTA.—The overturnings in France have made queer work socially and politically with individuals. Leon Gambetta, who now makes and unmakes prefects and Mayors and rules the whole hierarchy depending on the Home Office, is the son of a dealer in hardware in the south of France, and was unknown to the public until the day, less than two years ago, when he pleaded the cause of three students arrested for the Baudin demonstration. Less than three years since he was unable to attend the political parties of one of the Republican [illegible] because he was unable to procure a dress coat and white tie.

Hon Andrew Stewart the Republican nominee for Congress in the Twenty first Pennsylvania District is probably the oldest candidate in the political field in the United States. He must be upward of seventy five years of age, as he was elected to Congress in 1820 and he must have been twenty-five years old at that time to be eligible to the office. He is the only surviving member of the Seventeenth Congress. His election would be an anomaly in the political history of our Government.

A railroad engineer, while asleep at Centralia Ill, the other night, dreamed his engine was about to run off the track into a ditch, when he frantically got out of bed and rushed to the window out of which he jumped, a distance of about twenty feet. He landed on his feet, smashing a thick oak board in his fall and, excepting some severe bruises was not injured.

Burning the Dead

NO OTHER ALTERNATIVE AFTER THE BATTLES AROUND SEDAN

[Correspondence of the London Times.]

Pestilence has broken out in Sedan and in the neighboring villages of Carignan and Douzy. Before the German army moved away from Sedan disease had begun to make havoc in its ranks, and every day we hear from those who come hither from the rear of the [illegible] that dysentery and cholera hourly slay their scores of victims. But the advancing army must be better off than those they have left behind them. The pestilence was the inevitable consequence of what happened after the battles. As usual no report of the losses in these engagements has yet been suffered to appear, but it is certain that while the number of killed and wounded French was great, the losses of the Prussians were hideous. Around Douzy and Carignan however the losses were [illegible] and here for the second and third days after the battles the corpses laid in heaps. The Prussian gravediggers [illegible] but they had [illegible] too many for them. The corpses in great numbers remained unburied. They putrified quickly and the air became tainted with the fearful odor. The battles took place on Friday. On Monday the fields were [illegible] with unburied bodies of men and horses and the stench was intolerable. During Sunday and Monday since they had [illegible] quickly enough a new plan was [illegible] to dispose of them. They were consumed by [illegible]. The plan adopted for the accomplishment of this wholesale cremation was [illegible]. In various places in the field a deep trench in the form of a cross was dug. [illegible] in the centre of the trench [illegible] arms of the cross-shaped trench [illegible]. Then upon the [illegible] German and French together and these were left to burn while the grave diggers went on with their work of burying the other dead in shallow pits with only a few inches of earth thrown over them. For the living it would have been far better had all the dead been burned, for from all these thousands of shallow graves a pestilential stench is now arising and filling the air with seeds of death. I might fill columns with descriptions of the awful scenes on this battle-field which covers a space of ten miles.

A Woman Goes Ten Thousand Miles to Marry a Man She Never Saw

[From the Beverly (N J) Visitor.]

Many years ago the Rev [illegible] S Maclay was sent by the Board of Missions as a missionary to China. He was reasonably successful, but felt the need of a wife, and wrote to the Board requesting them to send him one from America. The Rev Dr Pittman then Secretary of the Board being a man of very fine feelings, wrote to Mr Maclay that it was a very delicate and [illegible] matter to select a wife for a [illegible] and advised him to defer his [illegible] until a more convenient season when he might be permitted to return to his native land and find one of its fair and worthy daughters. The Rev Dr [illegible] a member of the Board, had more boldness. He went to [illegible] of [illegible] with a zeal worthy of the most ardent [illegible].

He directed his attention particularly to a Miss Sperry of Brooklyn, N Y, then on a visit to Newark N J, whom he knew to be every way worthy the love and confidence of any man but more especially of a Christian minister, being a lady of piety and culture. But he was somewhat doubtful whether she possessed the self sacrificing spirit of a missionary to leave her relatives and friends and sail across the [illegible] and travel thousands of miles to a land of strangers where she would not be acquainted with a living soul, not even the man who in this very strange manner had asked her to become his wife. After the first surprise, the lady asked time to consider, the result of which was acceptance, and she set about preparing for the long journey.

Mr Maclay was written the state of the case. There was no telegraph in those days and it is likely that just at this time he may have had some misgivings of his mode of action. Here was a lady coming thousands of miles to marry him whom he had never seen, with whose disposition and temper he had no knowledge, and all he had to rely upon was the recommendation of a brother minister. There is not a man in a thousand who would be satisfied with such a choice. But then she was pious and self sacrificing. Oh how self was completely thrown in the shade by the acceptance of such an office and her going upon such a mission! This was the comfort, the consolation and the harbinger of love and happiness.

And how was it with the young lady? Was she not equally exercised about her position? Did she not frequently during that long and hazardous journey, question herself as to her prudence in accepting the proposal of marriage in such a second hand way? She never saw the man that was to be her husband; she only knew him by reputation; she might be unattractive to him and he repulsive to her when they met for the first time.

At length she arrived at her destination in China and the marriage took place at the house of another missionary, and ever since they have not only lived happily together but have been eminently successful in their missionary work. The two eldest sons of that romantic union are now students in the Wesleyan University at Middletown, [illegible], having graduated at Pennington Seminary N J about a year ago. They are both destined for the ministry.

The census returns of New York city are properly regarded by the Democracy as the end of their lease of power. They annihilate some 60 000 voters who never had an existence, except as repeaters, and thus close out the source of huge Democratic victories. The information has created a real panic, and the attacks on Republican candidates were never so venomous as since the discovery that the supply of bogus voters has been cut off. It wipes the party majority entirely off the slate and as it has no merits to stand on it will necessarily go to the wall in a fair contest.

The "Betsy" locomotive on the grade of the Oregon and California Railroad Company at Clinton's Point, was built by Stevens & Co of San Francisco, for the Oregon Steam Navigation Company in the year 1862. Her first work was on the Oregon Cascade Railroad, that Summer. In the fall of 1869 she was purchased by the Oregon Central Railroad Company, and was by them transferred last Spring to the Oregon and California Company.

ROBBERS CAUGHT.—Officers Tappan and Ale[illegible], who were dispatched to Salem [illegible] day last Tuesday, to hunt up and capture the safe robbers—Hackney, Cassady and Miller—returned yesterday on the afternoon train bringing Cassady and Hackney, and an associate who was caught in the den with them. Miller escaped. The officers deserve a great deal of credit for the energy and perseverance and persistency with which they have labored to bring about this result of their mission, which has been performed in full opposition to many persons who claim a degree of respectability, but from political motives are no way careless enough of their own interests to aid the ends of justice, but rather encourage the taking of a gang of thieves when they could make a scent of capital out of it. The officers were baffled so many times that they expected on Thursday night that they should return to Portland. They then disguised, and in less than three hours the game they sought came in sight. In making the arrest Miller ran. He was pursued by Mr Allen, and shots were fired after him, but to no purpose. Report has reached headquarters, however, that he was wounded.

BRIDAL PARTY.—A bridal party, from Scap[illegible] of the Forks, or somewhere else up country appeared in our city on Thursday, very anxious to become man and wife. The happy pair were accompanied by two bridesmaids and bridegrooms, and a chum who "tended to the baggage." They found their way to Vancouver were married in spite of the laws, and returned to Portland in the evening. They visited the Post [illegible] after supper and read the 'letterin' on the big glass windows there, and looked in upon the great sights to be seen at other places then betook themselves to rest, and early yesterday morning started for home. The bridegroom informed our informant all about how the trick was done up. How the old folks went off to Salem, and just how the happy party played the hard [illegible] a good game getting his gal away while the State Fair was running. He says he don't care a 'goll darn' about the Fair [illegible] happy now.

MAJOR STEINBERGER.—Major Justus Steinberger, Paymaster in the United States Army recently killed by being thrown from his horse was well known in this city. Major Steinberger was agent of the Pacific Mail Company when that company ran its steamers to Portland. He was afterwards employed as agent for Adams & Co's Express at this place and was so engaged when that company wound up in a failure. He then entered the service, passed to the grade of Colonel, and after filling many places of honor was finally appointed to the position of Paymaster with the rank of Major. He was universally respected and leaves very many friends in this community [illegible] regret this unhappy event.

[illegible].—A source of great annoyance to steamboat captains is the failure of vessels in port [illegible] their signal lights. And [illegible] barges and rafts [illegible] at night in the [illegible] light [illegible] visible. The [illegible] Capt Pease [illegible] missed a scow loaded for this port which was floating down on the morning of Wednesday [illegible]

[illegible] dispatches were received yesterday announcing the loss of the North Pacific Transportation Company's steamer [illegible]. Particulars are given [illegible] the Messenger [illegible]

THE MONUMENTS OF 1870.

We have from time to time alluded to the many massive business houses and splendid residences in process of building in Portland this year Now that these are mostly all approaching completion, we propose giving a description of them, so far as we are able to do in the brief space allotted for such matters

H W CORBETT'S BUILDING

The appearance of this structure which is a three story brick solid iron front 41 by 60 feet with a rear two stories in height 40 by [illegible] feet situated on the west side of First street between Washington and Alder streets will correspond favorably with any building on Montgomery street San Francisco It has been built by one of our most successful business men Hon H W Corbett, present U S Senator from Oregon at a cost of not less than $40 000 Mr Ira Goodenough has superintended the construction and it is certainly a most elegantly finished building The first floor is divided on the right and left of one main entrance or hall, by two rooms 18 by 8 feet each in size These apartments each have one front entrance and one solid large plate glass window which are the largest that have yet been introduced in Portland The doors and sash for these apartments are of solid mahogany and the inside finish corresponds with the outward The north room is being finished to accommodate the First National Bank and Mr J B Miller will occupy the south room The second story is divided into four suites of rooms front and rear sixteen feet six inches square with four center rooms 18 by 16 feet in size Plate glass windows corresponding with the first story proportioned rightly are inserted in the second story and the inside finish corresponds An ornamented iron balustrade the width of the hall projects from the second story The north half of the third story front and rear will be occupied by Mr Joseph Buchtel and will make an art gallery equal at least to any on the coast The south half has two suits of rooms 16 feet 6 inches square, and center rooms 16 6 by 18 2 feet in size. The ceilings of the front 65 feet are 1st story, 16 feet, 2d story 15 feet 3d story 16 feet Rear, 40 by 60 1st story 14 feet 2d story 18 feet 3d story 10 feet The stairway is divided into four easy flights within a space of 8 by 20 feet The first flight is 20 feet 2d flight 4 feet 3d flight 10 feet 4th flight 6 feet The rear has been constructed with an alry on both sides 4 feet wide the full length of 30 feet, which ventilates every room in the building The fire walls are of the usual height and the roof is tin There is not more than ten inches difference between the height of Mr Corbett's building and the Odd Fellows Temple on the next corner The ornamental iron work terminates six feet above the front fire wall in a circle in which are the words "CORBETT BUILDING 1870" The basement is divided by arched brick work to support the structure, and room is allowed for the reception and storage of fuel etc One of Littlefield's patent heating furnaces will be put in and the entire building will be warmed by the hot air process No wood or other fuel will be passed into the building, except under the sidewalk Gas and water pipes and gratings for warming have been inserted in every apartment The basement under the entire building is a seven foot brick wall A draft of air and light will protect the structure against decay

MESSRS LEWIS & FLANDERS BLOCK

This is a block of eight brick buildings two stories high, with cellars occupying a front of 100 feet by 80 feet depth on Front street east side, between B and C streets. The walls of the cellars are of stone, two feet in thickness laid up in cement The front of the first story is of iron having fluted columns 14 feet high 14 inches in diameter supporting semi circle lintel plates over the openings Particular attention has been made to making the building fire proof, and all openings have been provided with iron doors and shutters The roof is covered with brick to prevent fire from this exposed point. The second story is divided partly into apartments for the accommodation of the U S Collector and we learn that the Oregon and California Railroad Company will also occupy a portion of the second floor. The building was designed by Mr E M Burton, architect, and the construction has been under the supervision of Mr J M Caywood Everything about the buildings has been done with a view to strength and durability, nothing but the best of materials being used in the construction When completed these buildings will cost $30,000

DR R GLISAN'S BLOCK

This building comprises four brick stores, 25 by 80 feet each, having a front of 100 feet on First street by 80 feet depth on Ash street The north building has a basement or cellar, full size 7½ feet in depth, built of brick The style of the iron front is similar to those of Messrs Lewis & Flanders The first story is 16 feet in the clear, second story 14½ feet. In the second story there are a number of finely located rooms facing on First street One of these, full size 25 by 80 feet, is intended to be used in connection with the store beneath There will also be a large hall, 27 by 40 feet Facing on Ash street there is a room 25 by 80 feet, connecting with sliding doors which is calculated for a Club Room When finished this will be the finest room of the kind in Oregon Windows are made on three sides affording ample light and ventilation Everything about the premises has been arranged with a view to the convenience of those who may use the apartments. Gas and water have been introduced into all the rooms above and below, and no modern improvements, necessary to a first class building, have been omitted, The entire completion of this building was let by contract to Mr J M Caywood The design was by Mr Burton When completed the building will cost $22,000.

CAPT. A P ANKENY'S BLOCK

The brick building in process of construction for Capt Ankeny, is the largest structure in Oregon It covers an area of ground 100 by 200 feet running through from Front to First street The building is divided into two apartments 50 by 200 feet each, making two as large stores as can be found anywhere on the Pacific coast The foundations are of stone, three feet in thickness at the base The building is two stories high The ceiling of the first story is 18 feet 8 inches in the clear For the support of the second floor in the center of the building a solid wall of brick is laid, and in the center of each of the stores, 50 by 200 there are rows of turned columns 14 inches in diameter, sixteen feet apart The second story is 16 feet in the clear The ceiling joists are supported in the same manner as those of the first floor Mr. Caywood also has this building by contract The design is by Mr W W Piper architect When completed it will cost $50 000

Want of space prevents the description of other buildings at this time, which we have in manuscript

On motion of Mr Corn bus the [illegible] was suspended and the reading of the Journal dispensed with

Mr Baldwin [illegible] Committee on Enrollment reported that [illegible] had employed Mr W W Millard as Assistant Enrolling Clerk and that he had been sworn [illegible] Secretary of State

Mr Moser [illegible] Judiciary [illegible] reported S B [illegible] with a substitute [illegible] [illegible] attach Tillamook to Yamhill county for judicial purposes

Mr Cornelius [illegible] proposed amendment defining the boundary [illegible] He thought it better [illegible] by the Nehalem river as that would [illegible] the people in a small valley As it was [illegible] they should be in one county

Mr Newby understood the line proposed by the amendment as the [illegible] line of boundary starting from [illegible] Nehalem [illegible] The bill introduced in the House [illegible] He understood [illegible] would offer an amendment making it [illegible] At the suggestion of Mr Cornelius he moved [illegible] this the special order for to-morrow morning at [illegible] A M

Mr Cornelius favored postponing [illegible] to ascertain the [illegible] lines which [illegible] The motion prevailed and the bill was made the special order for 9 A M to-morrow

Mr Stout from the Judiciary Committee reported against the passage of S B [illegible] 44 and [illegible] H Bills [illegible] and 13

Mr Trevitt from the Committee on Engrossments reported S B [illegible] 4 and [illegible] correctly engrossed

Mr Trevitt from the Committee on Public Buildings reported S B [illegible] appropriate [illegible] thousand dollars On motion of Mr Trevitt the rules were suspended and the bill [illegible] second time by title

Mr Cochran moved to refer the bill to a special committee

Mr Stout suggested to refer to a Committee of the Whole as [illegible] the expenditure of [illegible] would be necessary

Mr Cochran thought after the committee had worked for the bill it [illegible] in the Senate The [illegible] Cochran Stout and Trevitt were appointed on the committee

On the motion of Mr Cornelius the special order for to-day at [illegible] o'clock—the Portland Charter Amendment —was made the special order for 9 45 o'clock A M to-morrow

On motion of Mr Moser the rules were suspended and the bill read by title

Mr Brown of Baker asked leave to introduce a bill granted

Mr Trevitt moved to read by title

Mr Cochran believed it to be unparliamentary to read a bill the first time by title

Mr Brown of Baker—The bill will be printed

Mr Cochran—But the Senate might desire to reject the bill on its first reading

Mr Trevitt—Cannot a bill be rejected on any reading second as well as first?

Mr Strahan thought the Senator from Lane had misconstrued the clause in the Constitution He thought the Senate the judge

Mr Moser—If the Senators can not read I am in favor of having the bill read by the Secretary

Mr Cochran [illegible] not tell whether to [illegible] a bill unless he could hear the bill read

The rules were suspended and the bill was read by title It is a bill to protect litigants

Leave of absence was granted Mr Moores for to-morrow he being Treasurer of the State Fair

Mr Hendershott moved a call of the House

Mr Stout opposed a call of the House, Members had their families here and he thought it proper for them to have the privilege of being with them at the Fair [illegible]

Mr Hendershott was willing to stay here and legislate, but unwilling to pass laws unless all the Senators were in attendance

Mr Strahan thought the material interests of the State consulted by attending the Fair As the Senate could get through with its business any morning he moved to adjourn until to-morrow morning at 8 30.

The motion prevailed.

ANOTHER MYSTERY SOLVED —Chemists being unable to discover the ingredients in fragrant SOZODONT, which removes all stains from the teeth and imparts such a peculiar rosiness to the gums the public are hereby informed that it is a preparation from the QUILLAYA SAPONARIA or Soap Tree of Chili, imported for the first time into this country for this special purpose Such is the purifying and innocuous effect of this rare botanical agent that it removes the discolorations from the most fragile textile fabric without injuring a single thread.

A DIALOGUE IN WALL STREET.—It is a vulgar error to suppose that the [illegible] of Wall street converse about nothing but stocks and gold Sometimes they talk about their health and they all seem to have one trouble—[illegible] The wear and tear of speculation invariably tells upon the liver.

"How do you think I'm looking?" said a well known Bull to a friend in the Long Room a few days after the late smash-up in gold "Do I look panic struck

No by Jove was the reply you look in trim to fight for a man's life Never saw you looking better

"Let me tell you a secret, my boy, returned the great operator, "I drink no wine, no brandy, no barroom stimulant of any kind but I just keep my stamina up with an occasional dose of PLANTATION BITTERS, and if you'll do me the favor to try it for that [illegible] on the stomach you're always complaining of, I'll furnish the margin for your next spec If it doesn't cure you "

The gentleman referred to (the initial of whose Christian name is not very far from the end of the alphabet) has unbounded confidence in the restorative, and his bright eye, firm nerves and wonderful powers of endurance prove that it is well founded.

Acknowledging the Corn

[illegible] Andrew Stewart [illegible] late for Congress [illegible] Congressional district [illegible] which we print not only as giving the origin of one of those phrases which for their [illegible] brevity will some day rank as the American classics, but as an original argument for protection.

In 1828, forty two years ago, this subject was before Congress and [illegible] I was trying to show to the farmer of the country that they were purchasing foreign agricultural productions in the form of goods, while they leave their own produce at home without a market [illegible] Ohio Indiana and Kentucky send their hay-stacks and corn fields and fodder to New York and Philadelphia for sale.

Mr Wickliffe, of Kentucky jumped up and said

Why this is absurd Mr Speaker I call the gentleman to order. He is stating an absurdity. We never send hay-stacks or corn fields to New York or Philadelphia.

Well I said, what do you send

Why horses, mules, cattle, and hogs.

Well, what makes your horses mules cattle and hogs? You feed a hundred dollars worth of hay to a horse you just animate and get upon the top of your hay stack and ride it off to market. [Laughter.] How is it with your cattle? You make every one of them carry fifty dollars' worth of hay and grass to the Eastern market.

Then I came to the hog question Said I, Mr. Wickliffe, you send a hog worth ten dollars to an Eastern market, how much corn does it take at thirty-three cents per bushel to fatten it?

Why, thirty bushels

Then you put that thirty bushels of corn into the shape of a hog and make it walk off to the Eastern market.

Mr Wickliffe jumped up and said "Mr. Speaker, I acknowledge the corn." [Laughter.]

That raised laughter just as it does here now, and the expression found its way into the newspapers and came to be a common one—"I acknowledge the corn." [Renewed laughter.] Well, you can say whether it is not true that the productions of agriculture are not sent in this form.

I submit if this is not true. I am addressing you as farmers. The Western people are deluded with this doctrine of free trade, and they will vote it down if we do not rally to the rescue. They are working like beavers everywhere to break it down. If I go to Congress I shall take up this subject where I left it and defend this policy to the end. That is what I shall advocate.

I shall recommend you and your wives to just go to the store and look over these articles, examine them and analyze this subject. Find out how much of the material in them is made up of agricultural produce. You can find it yourselves. It is the easiest thing in the world.

Hideous Bull-Fight at Kansas City, Mo

[From the Kansas City Bulletin, Sept 26

For the past two weeks the city has been posted with bills announcing a Spanish bull-fight, which was first announced to take place last Saturday, but owing to the rainy weather, was postponed until to-day. The animals, meanwhile were kept half starved until the time next appointed for the brutal exhibition, which was yesterday.

In company with representatives of other morning papers, we visited the Driving Park, where we found a strong bull pen had been erected, in size about thirty feet square and about eight feet in height. Above this pen tiers of seats had been built, so as to enable the spectators to view the expected gouging and tearing of the ferocious animals.

Ascending the raised dais or platform, we found a motley crowd of spectators among whom we noticed some of our most respectable citizens, drawn thither no doubt, by the novelty of the idea of a genuine Spanish bull fight. If we had any expectations of witnessing a fight they were dispelled by the first sight of the bulls. Poor, lean, dispirited victims to a brutal mob, neither of them was larger than a two-year old heifer, and were too weak even to walk, much less to fight, if they ever had any disposition to fight, it was all worked out of them in their trip over the plains from Texas. One of the poor brutes was tied to a corner, the other was kept in a little pen. A party of butchers arrived on the ground, bringing a quantity of blood, which was thrown upon the ground. A party of whippers then stood around the arena and proceeded to whip the little Texan goading it to desperation by sticking a number of spikes into it, which sunk into the hide of the terrified brute, and hung to it, the blood oozing out from its skeleton-looking frame.

After the outside animal had been tortured about an hour, amid the cheers and laughter of the brutalized assemblage, the second bull was driven out of its pen and the animals met but from the manner of their meeting it was evident they had met before, and under the yoke, for neither exhibited the least inclination to fight.

Now followed a scene which for cruelty, torture and damnable brutality has never been excelled either in this or any other age a piece of cruelty to animals that should be denounced with the execrations of a civilized community. Finding the poor, half-starved brutes would not tear and rend each other with their sharp horns, a number of men and boys armed with [illegible] over the smallest animal [illegible] the platform above it, whipped [illegible] to the earth, where for fully half an hour the prostrated animal was whipped by detail until its eyes were whipped out.

The other brute having been lassoed was drawn to the platform by a party of human beasts, more beastly than the beast itself, and held, while two of their number gouged its eyes from their sockets, the poor brute bellowing piteously in its anguish. Fully fifteen minutes were occupied in this horrible sport. The brutal torturers finally desisted from pure exhaustion, and the bleeding and blinded animals staggered around moaning with anguish.

How long the horrid scene would have continued we know not but by a divine dispensation of Providence a part of the spectators' gallery gave way precipitating the occupants to the earth in one promiscuous heap of humanity, brutality and pine lumber. Among the crowd, which fell with the scaffolding were Senator Carl Schurz, Congressman Van Horn, and their friends, who, in company with Mayor E M McGee had driven out to see the fight. We are happy to say no one was very seriously hurt. Senator Schurz escaped with a damaged nose and others with slight bruises.

Considerable complaint was made against the proprietors of the affair because the bulls refused to fight. Search was made for the gate keeper for the purpose of compelling a refunding of the admission fee but he had disappeared with the money box under his arm. This was no more than right the crowd paid for a brutal exhibition and they got out.

Ticket holders residing out of San Francisco will receive duly accredited lists of the awards of Gifts, which will also be published in the leading San Francisco daily papers of the 1st November 1870.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of man, or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies, and see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretend doctors who infest all cities publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness

Seminal Weakness, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures viz. Sallow countenance dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots uneasiness about the loins weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect loss of confidence diffidence in approaching strangers a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue fetid breath coughs consumption night sweats monomania and frequently insanity. If relief be not obtained should apply immediately either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of his complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons [illegible] can be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, by enclosing Ten Dollars sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who with bogus diplomas certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places are tradesmen and [illegible] too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinkers, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office-keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory, and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their names [illegible] Look at the Directory for 1852 and 1853. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets. As advertising physicians in [illegible] there is no safety in [illegible] unless you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus certificates, pretended patent or letters, etc. Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON 623 Kearney street corner Commercial, (Private Entrance on Commercial) San Francisco. Post Office Box 282.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 282 ON THE LETTER

THE RIVERSIDE

HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION

OF

EAST PORTLAND, OREGON,

IS NOW PREPARED TO RECEIVE SUBSCRIPTIONS to their Stock.

Application for ONE HUNDRED SHARES was made before the books were opened and a large number of Shares have been taken.

The following extracts from the Oregonian and Bulletin will convey a good idea of the plan and workings of the Association and the location of the land, etc.

RIVERSIDE HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION.

This association of whose organization we gave an account a few days since, is [illegible] to dispose of shares. As it is with the exception of the Portland Homestead Association, the pioneer organization of that kind in this city, it may be well enough to state what are its purposes, and the manner in which it is proposed to conduct its operations. The purposes of these Homestead Associations are not at all speculative in the ordinary sense of the word. They are designed not for the profits of their investment upon the natural advance in the value of their lands consequent upon the co operation of many individuals—shareholders—and the advance in value of all surrounding lands by reason of the expansion of population and demand for room outside of but still near, the city. The Riverside Homestead Association has a fraction over one hundred and twenty acres of land situated just south of Brooklyn on the east side of the river, its nearest boundary line being about one mile from the ferry landing at East Portland. The tract lies in one strip along the Wallamet river, half a mile in length and another strip along the Oregon and California railroad, half a mile in length, the two strips being connected near the middle by two rows of blocks (with a street between them), the whole forming a figure not unlike the letter H. It is divided into 74 blocks, 200 feet square [illegible] streets running at right angles and 30 fractional lots, along the river front. The shares number 600, worth $00 per share. It will be [illegible] a share thus represents nearly a lot with an undivided interest in the 30 fractional lots. The fractional shares are to be sold off at the proper time for the benefit of the Association, each [illegible] coming in for the proceeds in proportion to the number of shares held. When all shares are taken and the Association shall determine to do it the choice of lots and blocks will be put up at auction to the highest bidder, the proceeds of such sales, after [illegible] the original price of shares or lots, to be divided equally among the whole body of shareholders. Thus, if a person wants a particular lot or [illegible] and is willing to pay $100 or $500 [illegible] or less as the case may be, to have it [illegible] the lot or block as his individual [illegible] premium being divided among the whole [illegible] of shareholders. It will be seen that [illegible] everything is so operative and [illegible] tual. No man can make a dollar [illegible] out also making a dollar for every other shareholder. There is no chance for loss [illegible] the property, by some chance should [illegible] far below the first estimated [illegible] liable to happen, in the case of this [illegible] tract of land must be judged by [illegible] but considering the steady and rapid advance on real estate in this city and neighborhood and at East Portland and vicinity, in the last year or two [illegible] hardly [illegible] values to go back. [illegible]

In the Riverside Association all [illegible] tions seem to have been taken to guard [illegible] monopolies of shares. No person is allowed to buy more than the number of shares [illegible] three blocks, or twenty-four lots, and [illegible] terminating the ownership of the [illegible] restricted in the same [illegible] shares may pay down $60 per share, which will exempt them from all assessments or they may pay $15 quarterly with an [illegible] share payable with the first [illegible] liable in this latter case to [illegible] other) assessment of $[illegible] per share. Upon payment of the shares in full, with [illegible] as above, the holder is entitled to [illegible] and his proportion of all the profits [illegible] all sources. No officer of the Association [illegible] any pay for services except [illegible] gets $25 per month, so it will be seen that the expenses must be light.

That part of the tract lying along the river is a high plateau, nearly level, about [illegible] feet above the water. There is no part of the [illegible] row of blocks but commands a splendid view of Portland and the river for miles up and down stream. That part of the tract lying along the railroad is every foot of it, of the richest loam soil and adapted to gardening purposes. A beautiful little stream of pure water runs through almost the entire length of this wing of the tract, affording the means of daily [illegible] sufficient to supply pure water to every part of the whole tract. There is not a single foot of [illegible] lot in the entire tract. Under all these advantages, it would seem impossible that there would be any chance of loss to shareholders [illegible] year each shareholder, if he chooses, [illegible] perfect title to as many lots as his [illegible] represent, or he may continue his [illegible] vided, with this Association while the [illegible] tion may exist.—Oregonian.

THE RIVERSIDE HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION.

We have been led to make these remarks from the fact that the subject of making [illegible] skirts of this city and East Portland is being discussed here among all classes and [illegible]

Riverside [illegible] just south of East Portland [illegible] been established. The site selected is a tract of land lying a little over a mile south of the ferry landing [illegible] shaped like the letter H, one [illegible] of which, a half mile in length borders on the river.

From this portion of the homestead which is [illegible] but a trifle above the other prong of the H [illegible] forty or fifty feet above the river, commanding an extensive view of Portland, East Portland, the [illegible] the Willamette river for several miles. The land is very fertile and is partly covered with light timber. A tract of land just wide enough for two rows of blocks, with an avenue between them, connects the west prong of the H (which has already been [illegible]) with the east. The last tract of land is in a [illegible] valley which is now under a high state of cultivation. Through which length runs a brook, the water [illegible] as crystal. With a hydraulic ram the Association proposes to have water conveyed through pipes to every portion of the homestead.—Bulletin.
